ABOUT LOONG AIR

Hangzhou is a modern city in a classic Chinese setting. The city hums with activities and an endless flow of traffic, signs of its place in the 21st century, while the beautiful West Lake lies peacefully at the heart of all commotion, soothing the senses.

- ▶ Hangzhou is in eastern China, about 100 kilometers (60 miles) southwest of Shanghai. The city is also the southern end of the Beijing-Hangzhou Grand Canal, the longest canal ever built in the world.
- ▶ Through the years, the city has grown into a prosperous metropolis. Today, it continues to strive towards the conservation of its natural heritage, a daunting task in an era where modernity often takes precedence, especially so in a fast a developing country.
- ▶ Hangzhou is also a modern city with international schools, shopping, healthcare, public transportations, etc. It is a beautiful and convenience city for foreigners.
